ORFF SCHULWERK TEACHER EDUCATION
LEVEL I

June 13-24, 2016
8:30-4:45 (Monday-Friday)

This course is designed for music teachers and senior music education majors who want to earn Level I training in the Orff Schulwerk approach. Instruction will include study of basic Orff techniques, movement, and soprano recorder. Class size is limited to 20. Minimum class size is 15. The course follows the curriculum approved by the American Orff Schulwerk Association (AOSA). All classes will be given in Lorton Performance Center on The University of Tulsa campus.

COURSE DIRECTOR:
SUSAN GOLDMAN-MOORE, Applied Associate Professor of Music, University of Tulsa

COURSE INSTRUCTORS:

JANET HENDERSON, Basic Pedagogy, Recorder, has recently retired from Tulsa Public Schools, where she taught elementary music, emphasizing the Orff Schulwerk approach. In her thirty-seven years of teaching, Janet has taught elementary general music, middle school band, orchestra, choir and elementary education in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Cleveland, Ohio, and Tulsa, Oklahoma. Janet continues to hold leadership roles in Tulsa Green Country Orff Chapter. She has been Instructor of Basic Pedagogy, Recorder and Movement for Orff Levels Courses and workshops after completing apprenticeship at the Eastman School of Music. She received her Orff Levels training and Master Class at the University of Memphis, and has attended the Special Course at the Orff Institute in Salzburg, Austria.

MICHELLE MCCARVER, Movement, teaches kindergarten through fifth grade music at Arrowhead Elementary School in Broken Arrow, OK. She is presently serving as vice-president of the Green Country Oklahoma Orff Chapter and as chairman of the annual Tulsa area Orff Festival. Her Orff Schulwerk levels course training and post-master course training were completed through Southern Methodist University, and her apprenticeship in movement was completed at the University of St. Thomas. In 2013 she attended the Orff Schulwerk summer course at the Orff Institute in Salzburg, Austria.
